

Divisional Structure

The Productivity and Management Development Division

The Productivity and Management Development Division provides its services on a variety of programmes in Productivity and Management Development. The prime objective of the PMD is to facilitate on improving productivity and management practices in business organisations as well as individuals. This division offers a wide range of products in the field of training, education and consultancy services. These services are available to a cross-section of society from school leavers to top professionals and these educational and training opportunities are recommended to both organisations as well as interested individuals in public and private sectors.

The Management Information Systems Division

NIBM is the pioneer computer-training institute providing qualifications and training in the field of Information Technology in the country. The division conducts computer training programmes to equip participants with skills required to obtain employment and gain recognised qualifications. Course modules are constantly revised in keeping with rapid changes in the field. The well-structured training programmes have gained wide acceptance among students and are recognised by employers here and abroad.

Affiliations

Foreign Universities

NIBM is a member of the regional training network – the Association of Management Development Institutions in South Asia (AMDISA) and the Asian Productivity Organisation (APO). Since 1996, a Bachelor of Science Degree Programme in Management Information Systems is being conducted locally in collaboration with the University College Dublin, Ireland. UCD is one of the topmost business schools in the world.

NIBM has also formed a business partnership with Limkokwing University in Malaysia to offer degrees in Facilities Management and Interior Design. Limkokwing University is an international university with a global presence across 4 continents.

Memberships with Local Professional Bodies

The Institute plays a major role in 'the Association of Sri Lankan Institutes of Management (ASLIM); a national network of training institutions. NIBM is also represented in the Council of the Institute of Management of Sri Lanka (IMSL) as a Corporate Vice President.

The Institute's membership of local and regional networks makes it possible for NIBM to stay abreast of current trends at regional and global levels. This enables NIBM to achieve its mission of developing competencies in people and organisations, leading the Institute towards its ultimate vision of being the best business education institute in the country.

Memberships with International Professional Bodies

The partnership between NIBM and ACCA, which is the largest and fastest growing accounting body with members in over 170 countries, adds more strength and a new dimension to NIBM's role as a premier training institute in the country.

NIBM is also an officially recognised Edexcel centre of learning that guarantees the delivery of qualifications with the same quality and standard set by the UK Edexcel International.