The night

In the night, dark and bright,
Twinkling stars are bright,
The shining moon
Will rise up soon.

Fireflies around
Lighting up the ground
Bats fly around
Staying upside down.

"Everyone,
Go to bed now and
Sleep tight,"
Said the Queen of the Night.

Ayeshi Drahaman
Sujatha Vidyalaya, Nugegoda

Please remember to write the date at the top of your entry when sending in poems for this competition.

Shapes

What shape is a cone?
An upside down triangle
Which holds your ice-cream.

What shape is a frown?
A number 11 between your eyebrows
And unwelcome visitor of course.

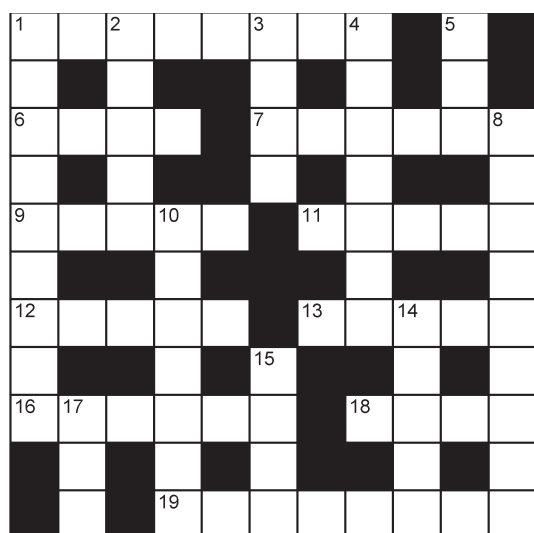

What shape is a rainbow?
A unique pattern with a smile
Which gives out colourful light.

What shape is friendship?
It's an invisible guest
Who comes to be with you,
In a shape of another you.

What shape is happiness?
Not one shape
But a mixture of shapes,
Which will be with you throughout your life.
