BRING YOUR DIFFERENCE
CTC'S MANAGEMENT TRAINEE PROGRAMME

Surani Amerasinghe, Director Human Resources

their skills required to perform the roles they engage in. As an employer, CTC constantly provides opportunities and experiences to learn and grow to maximize individual potential and it also encourages an innovative and creative environment. The company rewards and celebrates success and it constantly challenges the current norms of operation.

A GREAT PLACE TO WORK

Another key advantage of joining CTC is its flat structure. Though it is a company with a heritage that runs back more than a century, as a workplace it is as progressive and modern in its approach as any of the newest companies.

For the 2011 Management Trainee Programme intake, applications will be called for Finance, Marketing and Supply Chain functions on 25 September 2011.

EXPERIENCE OF A MANAGEMENT TRAINEE

“The Management Trainee Programme has provided a foundation for my career whether at CTC, British American Tobacco Group or elsewhere.

I enjoy the freedom and responsibility that has been given to me and this has allowed me to become a stronger person both in my professional as well as personal life. CTC is truly a breeding ground for young talent.”

Sachi Fernando
Management Trainee (Marketing)

“Since 2000, CTC has recruited more than 35 Management Trainees and moulded them to perform leading roles at CTC and British American Tobacco (BAT) worldwide. At present, a large number of our Managers are working in diverse markets across the world and the greater percentage of them are graduates of the CTC Management Trainee Programme,” stated Surani Amerasinghe, Human Resources Director of CTC speaking of the company’s Management Trainee Programme, which provides global opportunities for graduates.

A TRULY GLOBAL PROGRAMME

Every year, CTC recruits 4-6 graduates as Management Trainees and trains them to and become Managers in any part of the world. The CTC Management Trainee Programme is one of the few such initiatives aimed at providing young graduates with a truly global opportunity to work in Sri Lanka and other British American Tobacco markets around the world. Once the training period is over, the Management Trainee is further assisted in the managerial role that they take up, thus supporting them in their growth process and guiding them when necessary during the initial years. Therefore, this one of a kind opportunity provided by CTC, is one of the key reasons for any graduate to choose CTC.

A TOP PAYMASTER

CTC is also one of the top paymasters in the country. CTC spends over Rs. 1,000,000 per individual during the Management Trainee Programme and grooms them for 24 months to become Managers within CTC and in the future, progress to other parts of the British American Tobacco Group, worldwide.

According to Ms. Amerasinghe, the past Management Trainees of CTC have been trained for up to 6 months in various British American Tobacco markets such as the United Kingdom, Pakistan, Bangladesh, Indonesia, Russia, Vietnam and Singapore.

DEVELOPMENT OPPORTUNITIES

During the programme, the Management Trainees can expect to follow a path that is tailor-made to suit each individual’s potential and skills. This is possible because CTC’s Management Trainees are recruited under various specialized areas, thereby allowing them to sharpen
